

New – 'Velux' Shutters

The perfect solution for rooflight windows

The New England Shutter Company is now offering the perfect solution to screening Velux windows, allowing you to control the light during the day and shut out the dark at night.

Made to measure, the special rooflight shutters are fixed within the frame of the window itself, forming an integral part of the unit whether the window is open or closed. The fully adjustable blades give total control of light and the finished look is simple, clean and modern.

Available in several blade widths and styles, the solid tulip wood shutters come in The New England Shutter Company's complete range of custom-painted and sandblasted finishes or covered in leather, fabric or suede. They are also available in special timbers including solid Maple, Oak, Cherry, Walnut and Teak, which is ideal for bathrooms. Prices from £150 (exclusive of delivery & installation).
